"The major projects report" is produced annually by the Ministry of Defence, reporting the progress of the 25 largest defence equipment procurement projects against the costs and in-service dates estimated when the projects were first approved. The National Audit Office analysed the data in the 1999 report, looking at the progress of the projects in meeting cost and timescale targets; the factors that cause projects to vary from approved performance parameters; trends in the MoD's performance; and the causes, cost and operational impacts of project slippage on four case study projects.
